

Since baseball odds are determined on starting pitchers, any late pitching changes often force an adjustment in the odds. This will increase or decrease the payout on a winning ticket. However, if you selected a listed pitcher bet, and your pitcher doesn't start, then the bet is refunded.

Props: Various unique wagers may be offered from time to time. When wagering proposition bets, the game must go 9 innings (8 ½ innings if the home team is ahead) to have action. Action has occurred if the outcome of the wager is already known, unless otherwise specified. If a game is suspended after 9 innings (8 ½ innings if the home team is ahead), the final score is determined after the last full inning. If the home team scores to tie or take the lead in the bottom half of the inning, the final score is determined by the score at the time the game is called.

HOW TO BET ON BASEBALL

PLAYERS EDGE

BET ON THE GAME

To bet on baseball, tell the ticket writer the betting number of the team you wish to bet and the amount you wish to wager.

If your team wins the game, you win. The payout varies according to the odds posted. Baseball odds are shown using a "Money Line."

Odds: for a game based on $1, a "minus" (-) preceding the number indicates the team is a favorite. A "plus" (+) preceding the number indicates the team is an underdog.

Example:

Bet #	Team	Pitcher	Odds	Total	Money Line
301	Marlins	Sanchez	+110	7.5	over -110
302	Ray	Glasnow	-120		under -110

The Rays' odds are -120, meaning a $12 bet would win $10, for a return of $22. The Marlins' odds are +110, meaning a $10 bet would win $11, for a return of $21.

Money Lines change constantly. The listed Money Line at the time you make your bet may be different from the Money Line when the game starts. The listed line on your ticket is your official odds, unless the starting pitcher is changed. For wagering purposes, wagers on baseball Money Lines are official after five full innings of play, or four and one-half innings if the home team is leading. For Money Line wagers, the team must only win the game.

Total: Total runs scored in a game. Also called the Over/Under.

You may wager that the total score of the game will be more or less than the number listed. It makes no difference which team wins. Simply add the final scores of each team. The payout, unless stated otherwise, is figured at odds of 10/11 (-110).

Note: When betting a total, these rules apply:

- a. The game must go nine innings, or 8 1/2 innings if the home team wins.
- b. Both listed pitchers must start the game. If either doesn't happen, the bet is refunded.

All runs scored in extra innings count in Over/Under bets.

Baseball Run Lines: A point spread of 1½ means a favorite must win by 2 runs or more, or the underdog must either:

- a. Win the game.
- b. Lose by only one run.

The payout varies according to the Money Line odds assigned to each outcome.

Example:

Bet #	Team	Pitcher	Money Line	Total	Odds	Run Line	Odds
301	Marlins	Sanchez	+110	7.5	O -180	+1.5	-180
302	Ray	Glasnow	-120		U -110	-1.5	+160

The Rays must win by at least 2 runs. A $10 bet would win $16 and return $26. The Marlins must lose by 1 run or win. An $18 bet would win $10 and return $28.

Note: Same rules apply to run line bets as totals.

- a. The game must go nine innings, or 8 1/2 innings if the home team wins.
- b. Both listed pitchers must start the game. If either doesn't happen, the bet is refunded.

There are rare instances where the run line will be -2.5/+2.5. Treat this like any other point spread where the team -2.5 must win by 3 or more runs and the team that is +2.5 can win the game OR lose by 2 runs or less to cash the ticket.

First Five Inning wagers: You may wager on the outcome of the first five innings only.

- a. Must play five full innings for action.
- b. Both starting pitchers must throw at least one pitch.

Baseball Parlays: You may combine several teams into one wager. All teams must win to win the bet.

Baseball parlays are figured out by calculating the payout for the first game, based on the Money Line, then applying that amount to the next game, and so-forth.

If a game is postponed for any reason, the parlay reduces by one team. The bet is treated as if the postponed game(s) were never included in the parlay.

Listed pitcher(s) option: When making a baseball bet, you are betting team vs. team. You have the option to specify that either or both listed pitchers must start the game. A wager can require both listed starting pitchers, or just one pitcher. A starting pitcher is defined as the pitcher who throws the initial pitch in his respective half of the first inning.
